States' Animal Cruelty Statutes

STATE OF ALASKA

The Statutes are current through legislation effective May 17, 2010 passed during the 2010 Second Regular Session of the 26th Legislature.

§ 03.55.100. Minimum standards of care for animals

- (a) The minimum standards of care for animals include
 - (1) food and water sufficient to maintain each animal in good health;
 - (2) an environment compatible with protecting and maintaining the good health and safety of the animal; and
 - (3) reasonable medical care at times and to the extent available and necessary to maintain the animal in good health.
- (b) Any determination as to whether or not the standards of this chapter are met shall be based on the professional opinion of a veterinarian licensed under AS 08.98.
- (c) The department may adopt regulations to implement this section.

§ 03.55.110. Investigation of cruelty to animals complaints

- (a) A person who believes that cruelty to animals has taken place or is taking place may file a complaint with a public or private animal control agency or organization, the department, or a peace officer. An agency or organization or the department may refer the complaint to a peace officer.
- (b) A peace officer who receives a complaint of animal cruelty may apply for a search warrant under AS 12.35 to the judicial officer in the judicial district in which the alleged violation has taken place or is taking place. If the court finds that probable cause exists, the court shall issue a search warrant directing a peace officer to proceed immediately to the location of the alleged violation, search the place designated in the warrant, and, if warranted, take property, including animals, specified in the warrant. The warrant shall be executed by the peace officer and returned to the court.
- (c) Before a peace officer may take an animal and place it into protective custody, the peace officer shall request an immediate inspection and decision by a veterinarian licensed under AS

08.98 that placement into protective custody is in the immediate best interest of the animal. If a veterinarian is not available to perform an inspection, before a peace officer may take an animal, the peace officer shall communicate with a veterinarian who has, after hearing a description of the condition of the animal and its environment, decided it is in the immediate best interest of the animal that it be placed into protective custody. If the peace officer is not able to communicate with a veterinarian, before the officer may take an animal, the officer shall decide it is in the immediate best interest of the animal that it be placed into protective custody. For purposes of this section, "peace officer" means

- (1) an officer of the state troopers;
- (2) a member of the police force of a municipality;
- (3) a village public safety officer; or
- (4) a regional public safety officer.

§ 03.55.120. Seizure of animals

(a) A peace officer shall place an animal in protective custody before removing the animal from the location where it was found. If the animal is removed, the peace officer shall place the animal with a veterinarian licensed under AS 08.98 or, if a veterinarian is not readily available, with a responsible public or private custodian to be sheltered, cared for, and provided necessary medical attention.

(b) A peace officer who has removed an animal shall immediately notify the animal's owner in writing of the removal and of the owner's right to petition the court under AS 03.55.130 for return of the animal. Notification may be delivered in person, posted at the owner's residence, or mailed to the owner.

(c) If a removed animal's owner is unknown and cannot be ascertained with reasonable effort, the animal shall be considered a stray or abandoned.

(d) The state, a municipality, or a person, that supplies shelter, care, veterinary attention, or medical treatment for an animal seized under this section shall make a reasonable effort to locate the owner.

§ 03.55.130. Destruction and adoption of animals

(a) If a determination is made by a veterinarian licensed under AS 08.98, by a peace officer in consultation with a veterinarian licensed under AS 08.98, or by a peace officer who is unable to locate or communicate with a veterinarian licensed under AS 08.98 that an animal removed under AS 03.55.100--03.55.190 is injured or diseased to such an extent that, in the opinion of the veterinarian, it is probable the animal cannot recover, the veterinarian or the peace officer may humanely destroy the animal or arrange for the animal's humane destruction.

(b) Upon diagnosis and recommendation of a veterinarian licensed under AS 08.98, a public or private custodian may humanely destroy or arrange for the humane destruction of a severely injured, diseased, or suffering animal that has been removed under AS 03.55.100--03.55.190.

(c) An owner of an animal destroyed under this section may not recover damages for the destruction of the animal unless the owner shows that the destruction was not reasonable under the facts as known to the veterinarian or the peace officer authorizing the destruction.

(d) Except as provided in (a) or (b) of this section, the custodian of an animal may not adopt, provide for the adoption of, or euthanize the animal within 10 business days after the animal is taken into custody. An owner may prevent the animal's adoption or destruction by

(1) petitioning the court of the judicial district in which the animal was removed for the animal's immediate return, subject, if appropriate, to court-imposed conditions; or

(2) posting a bond or security with the court of the judicial district in which the animal was seized in an amount determined by the court to be sufficient to provide for the animal's care for a minimum of 30 days from the date the animal was removed.

(e) If the custodian still has custody of the animal when the bond or security posted under (d)(2) of this section expires and the court has not ordered an alternative disposition, the animal becomes the custodian's property. If a court order prevents the custodian from assuming ownership and the custodian continues to care for the animal, the court shall require the owner of the animal to pay by bond or otherwise for the custodian's continuing costs of care for the animal until a final disposition of the animal is made by the court.

(f) The state may not be required to reimburse a public or private agency, organization, or person that voluntarily assists with a removal of an animal or receives custody of an animal removed under this section for costs of shelter, care, veterinary assistance, or medical treatment rendered to the animal.
